

NORTH CAROLINA.

Charlotte has another Building and Loan Association.

The new law was rejected in every county where voted upon.

A camp meeting commenced at Rock Springs, Catawba on Friday.

Brown: King, the man who recently committed suicide in Goldsboro first attempted to murder his wife.

Lorenzo Best, colored, died in Newton a few days ago from the effects of a sun stroke. So says the Vindicator.

The Newton Vindicator learns that work has begun on the Western Division of the Central Road, between Buffalo and Shelby.

The recovery of Mr. Jno. Butler, who was assaulted and beaten so badly near Bladenboro, a few weeks ago, is considered very doubtful.

The President and Directors of the First Co-operative Store of Wilmington have declared a dividend of 12 per cent. for the past year.

Mr. Robert London, of Wilmington, a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, has been assigned to duty in the Fifth Cavalry as second Lieutenant.

Says the Charlotte Democrat of the 1st last:

"On this morning Judge Moore delivered his opinion in the A. T. & O. Railroad case, deciding that Robt. L. McDowell, Esq., is the lawful President of the road, having been legally elected by a duly organized convention of stockholders representing a majority of the stock."

We think it is probable that a Receiver will be appointed for the road, in order to keep the road running until all difficulties have been removed."

Mr. James Tarlton living about four miles from this city, says the Charlotte Journal of the 12th instant, was bitten by a copper head snake, on the left hand, on Thursday morning while gathering corn from his crib. The arm and one side of his body swelled terribly, and he suffered greatly with spasms, lying at everything within reach. A young man who nursed Mr. Tarlton informs us that he immediately commenced giving him whiskey and ammonia (barbhorn). From Thursday until Sunday evening he gave him four quarts of whiskey and a half pint of ammonia, besides several spoonfuls of chloroform. On Sunday night, for a few minutes, the man appeared to be dead, but again breathing, two teaspoonfuls of chloroform were given him, which caused him to sleep all night. On Monday morning he was well enough to get up and attend to business.

Says the Newbern Times of the 10th inst.: "Robt. S. Taylor, of Long Creek, Craven county, met with death in a most singular and horrible manner on Sunday morning last, at about 2 o'clock, as supposed. He left Newbern in company with Mr. Thomas Grover, who kindly gave him a passage in his boat at his request on Saturday night last. Mr. Grover landed him at the mouth of Coates Creek at 12 m., Sunday morning and proceeded to his home a short distance away and Mr. Taylor also proceeded homeward on foot. He was not heard of until Thursday last, and much uneasiness was felt regarding his absence by his neighbors, being subject to fits. He was found dead on Thursday about one mile from where he landed with his back broken and a pine splinter projecting from a stump run into his body near the shoulder; his collar bone was also broken. From the position of the body it was evident that in passing around a fallen and partially burned pine, he had tripped over a bent gum sapling and fallen across a stump hole striking on his face and receiving the blow at the same time from the partially imbedded stump in it. The fall also broke his back as his hands were extended down the hole and from appearances, could not have broken his fall."

MR. HUGHES AND PRESIDENT GRANT.—The Washington Republican (official) gives the following version of the interview between President Grant and the Republican nominee for Governor of Virginia:

"The President assured Col. Hughes that the Administration entertains the most hearty sympathy for the Republican ticket in Virginia, and that the legitimate influence of the Executive department shall be used to advance its success in the pending campaign. The President further assured Col. Hughes that he had never at any time previous to the Lynchburg Convention intimated or expressed a desire that the party should depart from its ordinary usages, and especially explained that the idea of a third party or an independent combination had never been sustained by him or received a moment's thought. He further expressed a desire that the friends of the Administration, and others in the State who may be desirous of rendering it friendly services, should support the regular ticket. He also explained that, in his opinion, no difference exists between the Republican party as a National and a State organization, and that Confederate Republicans who may have supported the National ticket last last fall should now consistently support the State ticket."

DEATH OF A MISON.—S. Passmore, a lawyer of eccentric and miserly habits, of Philadelphia, died on the 8th instant, leaving an estate valued at nearly a million dollars. He leaves a brother and two sisters. His will left the bulk of his estate to charitable institutions, but becomes operative, having been made only one week prior to his death, when the law requires at least one month.

The Persian title of the Shah's Prince Minister, Mirza-Hussein Khan is Sadar-Azam, meaning, literally, Broad-Chest. It is his duty to assume all responsibilities toward the Shah and the people.

The Governor of South Carolina spends $40,000 a year. He probably pays too much attention to what the Governor of North Carolina has to say on the subject of refreshments.—Worcester Gazette.

It is a question whether the Emperor of Austria smilingly declined a glass of American champagne because he did not taste it.

The Raleigh Daily News.

WEDNESDAY.....AUGUST 13, 1873.

DEATH FROM CHLOROFORM.—A singular and peculiarly unfortunate death took place at Dr. William H. Mussey's office yesterday afternoon. About half past 12 o'clock a young man named Adolph Hummeler called on the Doctor to dress the thumb of his right hand, which he had mashed in some machinery at Mackie's Mill's tin shop, on west Main street. The first joint of the thumb was hopelessly crushed rendering amputation of the joint necessary. Hummeler decided to take chloroform to undergo the operation, and as he was a strong, healthy man, apparently suffering no great pain, and but little weak, Dr. Mussey did not hesitate to administer the anesthetic, after the usual inquiries as to organic actions. The Doctor dashed about a third of an ounce of chloroform over a handkerchief and applied it in the ordinary way. It took over five minutes to completely narcotize the patient, and just as he became unconscious he was raised with a violent scream by Dr. Mussey, greatly alarmed the Doctor. He had made his unused instruments and resort to what remained to be had at hand; but it was in vain, the man gasping his last breath, was unable to stop the trembling fit. (Continued, p. 2.) Mussey immediately sent for Dr. Clegg Miller of the man's family, who arranged the preliminaries of a post mortem examination, including a post mortem examination.

Notwithstanding Hummeler's statement to the contrary, it seems probable that he was subject to some organic affection which was forced into fatal action by the inhalation of the chloroform.

A lady in Western New York blames the Post-Office Department because no one can get her picnic. She issued a card or so of invitations, and had got the grounds, music, &c., all ready, but no one came. She went to the post-office and found that all her invitations had been sent to the dead-letter office because they bore a one instead of a two-cent stamp, as required by law.

The New York Express says: "The publications of General Harper, in Vicksburg, and William Atter, in Ohio, are regarded as the vanguard of the Democratic party. If not of its strength, they are the platforms adopted on the solid foundations on which they rest."

Today's Advertiser quotes as follows: "People here expect to exceed the record of 1872, but the Banking system is not so strong and reliable.
